Part 1 – Anne Christine Pedersen Narrative, updated 25 Feb '18

Anne Christine Pedersen (1844 – 1908) was born to Niels Peder Pedersen and Johanne Pedersen in Veddam, Skelund Sogn, Aalborg Amt, Denmark and immigrated to Utah with her parents, brother, and three sisters in 1862.

Anne Christine Pedersen married Niels Peter Christensen/Peterson in Ephraim late in 1862.

About Niels Peter Christensen/Peterson: Niels Peter Peterson (1836 – 1887) was born Niels Peder Christensen, the oldest known child of Christen Pedersen Wolff, a shoemaker, and Maren Sørensen, who married in Skelund Sogn in 1835. Like Anne Christine, Niels Peter was born in Skelund Sogn. Niels Peter Peterson converted to the Mormon faith in 1858.

A family history reports, but it is not yet confirmed, that Niels Peter Peterson immigrated in 1862 in the same company as his future wife and her family.

After marrying, Anne Christine Pedersen and Niels Peter Peterson first lived with her parents in Ephraim in her parents' little rock house, which they enlarged. By the time of the 1870 census Anne Christine and Niels Peter lived near her parents in an adobe house, with Niels Peter listed as a laborer. The 1880 census listed Niels Peter as a farmer.

Anne Christine and Niels Peter had ten children, two of whom died in early childhood. Some of the children remained in Ephraim, some moved to Redmond, Utah, and a few lived elsewhere. As of Nov 2014, there is a nice photo on the Internet of Annie Christine and her eight adult children.

Niels Peter Peterson was crippled when an unruly team of mules pushed him into a ditch while hauling a load of wood near Ephraim. Exposure after this accident may have led to the pneumonia that caused his death on his 51st birthday in 1887. Anne Christine was left with eight children, ages 23 to one.

Anne Christine married Christian Anderson Kolby, a widower, in Manti, Utah in 1892.

About Christian Anderson Kolby: Christian Anderson Kolby (1842 – 1919) was born in Denmark and immigrated with this wife and two oldest children around 1877. He was a farmer who was living in Ephraim by 1880 and evidently remained in Ephraim the remainder of his life. I believe his descendants tended to drop the "Anderson" and use the surname "Kolby."

Anne Christine and Christian Anderson Kolby were married for around 14 years while she raised her youngest children and his youngest child. They subsequently divorced. After their divorce, Christian Anderson Kolby soon married a widow and remained in Ephraim.

After divorcing, Anne Christine moved to Salina just south of Redmond to live with her daughter, Olena, and then to Redmond to live with her son, Erastus. Anne Christine died in Redmond in 1908.

Anna Christine Pedersen and Niels Peter Petersen had ten children, two of whom died in early childhood. The remaining eight children are listed immediately below.

- Erastus Peter Peterson (1863 – 1943)
- Niels Peter Peterson (1866 – 1947)
- Hannah Catherine Peterson (1870 – 1943)
- Andrew W. Peterson (1873 – 1936)
- Annie Christina Peterson (1877 – 1944)
- Joseph Franklin Peterson (1879 – 1965)
- John Henry Anderson (1882 – 1943)
- Olena Peterson (1885 – 1973)

Anne Christine Pedersen is buried in the Redmond Cemetery. Her first husband, Niels Peter Peterson, is buried in the Ephraim Pioneer Cemetery. Her second husband, Christian Anderson Kolby, and Christian's first, second and fourth wives are also buried in the Ephraim Pioneer Cemetery.
