The Olesen family were blacksmiths and later garage owners and car dealers in Avoca. Olesen Chevrolet is still in business as of 2018.

In 1940, Margaret Olesen was living with her parents and working as a stenographer in a law office. Later she was secretary of the Avoca area draft board before joining the Army around June 1943. Before her death, she served as the assistant adjutant of the Army Ground School, a training school for new officers, at Fort Riley, Kansas.
